OUR LAST SHOT.

Read this and we will let you rest until next year
We firmly believe that we have convinced the public that
The New Hub Range,
The Hub Parlor and
The Florence Favorite Oil Stove
LEAD THE MARKET.
We are led to believe this from the fact, that in spite or the determined opposition of nearly all the dealers in town our sales have more than doubled during the past year. The improvements, convenience and high finish of these goods are appreciated
We are constantly taking out stoves of the best kinds sold by others and
REPLACING THEM WITH HUBS
Our aim in the future will be to give our patrons the very best goods manufactured as fast as they are put upon the market, and we believe that here will be benefited by their superiority.
Thanking you for past favors and hoping that we shall continue to receive the benefit of your patronage we wish you
A MERRY CHRISTMAS
—AND—
A Prosperous and Happy New Year.

Thanksgiving Song.
Ho! sturdy Farmers, one and all,
With wives and children fair,
Were driving Sheep to the well—
Will you the gain share?

This age of shams in which we stay,
Has no analogue remark,
For half calf may be a straw hay,
So righteous judgment spare.

We'll patronize the honest men,
Who deal upon the square—
Buy once, twice, thrice, and buy again,
Each other's burdens bear.

Let shoddy dealers hide their names,
And use a slight prepare—
Telling one truth the devil shames,"
May we the devil dare.

Ho! farmers, toiling hard to live,
Gentlemen with ragged knee,
Good wheels for oh! if you needn't give,
And we will sell you mine—

STATE NEWS.

Cumberland.

The usual Christmas exercises were held by the Garfield Cold Water Battalion, at the Reform School, Friday evening. There was quite a number of invited guests present, and the boys appeared to especial advantage.

A young daughter of John Billington's broke through the ice of the mill-pond, Saturday, and with some difficulty was rescued from drowning by her playmates.

John Kavanagh, an aged man fell upon the slippery pavement, on Danforth street Portland, Christmas Day, and broke three ribs.

The proposed lodge of Odd Fellows, at Gorham is now a certainty. Fifty-five names are attached to the application for a charter. The Grand Officers have appointed Jan. 15th as the date of institution.

Rev. O. W. Rogers, of the Congregational church, Bridgton, has accepted a call to the pastorate of a church in Iowa, and will enter upon his new field of labor the first of March.

The death of Bertie G., only child of Isaac L. and Nellie E. Hughes, residing on Chestnut street, Portland, occurred a day or two ago, under peculiarly distressing circumstances. Mr. Hughes has been in the habit of taking pills containing phosphorus and by some mischance, after taking the customary dose, left the box within reach of the little boy. The child climbed up to a shelf in the closet and got possession of the pills. He ate a number of them. This was at about 10 o'clock, Wednesday evening. The boy was soon after taken sick, and a short time after went into convulsions. A physician was called and an emetic and hot baths were prescribed, but it was too late to do anything further for the boy, and he died about twenty minutes later.

James Curran was arrested in Portland, Sunday night, for highway robbery, committed in Boston about Thanksgiving. He will be taken to Boston.

Hancock.

The sale and supper held by the Baptist society, last week at Ellsworth, was a grand success, the net receipts amounting to something over $300.

The schooner Ella Rose, owned by H.B. Mason went ashore on the Mussel Ridges, between Owl's and White Heads, and sunk. She is loaded with corn for H. B. Mason, who will go on to look after his interests

Knox.

Sanford Dyer, a ship carpenter, had his legs caught between two planks, while at work in the yard at Camden, Tuesday, and will have to stay in the house several weeks for repairs. He is a son of Walden Dyer, who cut his foot so badly in the ship yard, some weeks ago.

Merrill Richards, who works in the Anchor works, Camden, had his foot badly jammed, Tuesday, by a heavy bar of iron which fell on it from the anvil.

Waldo.

A valuable horse belonging to Mr Loretto Hayford, of Belfast, died Sunday, by bleeding at the nose. The animal had a previous attack, but was apparently all right Sunday morning, until about twenty minutes before death. Deaths from this cause are very rare,

Washington

David Vance, of Wesley, killed forty deer before Dec. 5th, and Zina Pennell, of Whitneyville, has killed forty. The deer of Whitneyville, has killed forty. The deer net the above hunters $10 each or $800 in all. Probably the value of deer killed in the last twelve weeks in Washington county,—Dennysville to Steuben, equals in value $5,000.

The Sentinel says that over 600 deer have been killed in Maine this season.

On Thursday of last week, Mrs. Dorcas Bibber, of Eastport, slipped, in going from one room to another, and injured her hip bone. She is about 58 years of age, but her physician reports her as doing nicely.

The Eastport Sentinel says that frozen herring are still a very scarce article. Only a few small lots have been shipped the last week. About all the herring have been caught at Grand Manan so far, and we learn that one vessel succeeded in getting a cargo at Grand Manan, the first caught there during the cold snap about two weeks ago, which were carried to market and sold for $3,100.

York.

Milliken & Duff have cut and housed 500 tons of pure spring water ice from Milliken's pond, for retail trade at Old Orchard Beach next season. The ice is about 16 inches thick.

NEW BOOKS RECEIVED.

We have received from the publishers, Roberts Brothers, Boston, the following new book

PEARLS OF THE FAITH, by Edwin Arnold, C. S. I. It is the custom of many pious Muslims to employ in their devotions a three-stringed chaplet, each string containing thirty-three beads, and each bead representing one of the "ninety-nine beautiful names of Allah," whenever this, among many other religious uses, is made of it. In the pages of verses in this work the author has enumerated these ninety-nine names, and appended to each, from the point of view of an Indian Muhammedan, some illustrative legend, tradition, record, or comment, drawn from diverse oriental sources, presenting the spirit and manner of Islam and some of the thoughts and beliefs of the followers of the prophet of Arabia. For sale by D. Bugbee & Co.; price $1.

YOUNG FOLKS' HISTORY OF MEXICO. By Fred A. Ober. Second series. Boston: D. Lothrop & Co. Price, $1.50. Mexico has been almost an unknown country, is fast taking its place among the important and progressive nations of the world. Although it is only divided by an imaginary boundary from the United States, the two countries have nothing in common; and though possessed of a climate and scenery equal in healthfulness and beauty to those of Italy, tourists and travellers have rarely turned their faces in that direction. The recent extension of United States railroads into the country, and the development of new industries in which American capitalists are largely interested, has attracted attention toward Mexico, and the stream of travel thitherward has begun. Within the next five years that country will become a place of winter resort, and its beauties will be written about as enthusiastically as are those of our famous resorts at the north to-day. Naturally there is a strong desire to know something more definite about the country than is laid down in the geographies; something of its past as well as of its present. Much of the charm of every strange country that one visits lies in its historical associations. Prescott's great three-volume work The Conquest of Mexico, is a treasure house of historical information, but it is beyond the reach of the general reader. What is needed is a popular, well-written history, prepared by one throughly familiar with the subject, and brought down to the present time. Such a work we have in the volume before us. Mr. Ober has not depended wholely upon his reading for his material; he spent some time in Mexico, and the work has the benefit of personal travel and observation. The text is supplemented by a large number of illustrations.

SUDDEN DEATH OF HON. ELISHA A. ALLEN.

A painful shock was experienced in this community at the telegraphic announcement, yesterday, that Hon. Elisha H. Allen, Minister from the Sandwich Islands, who was for so many years a distinguished citizen of Bangor, had died suddenly at the White House during the Presidential reception on New Year's Day. Mr. Allen, as the oldest member, has been for several years the Dean of the Diplomatic Corps, and was doubtless engaged in presenting them to the President when he was overcome by the illness that proved so suddenly fatal.

Although nearly eighty years of age, Mr. Allen's temperament was so genial and his bearing so alert and vivacious that he seemed a much younger man, and it is but a few weeks since he was seen walking our streets with elastic tread and every appearance of excellent health. His mental faculties were equally bright and fresh, and we shall always retain most pleasant recollection of his breezy, buoyant conversation at our last personal interview with him, which seems but a few days ago.

He was a man of remarkable ability, of peculiarly ripe culture, and his manners had all of the polish and refinement of the old school, embellished by a cosmopolitan ease and a keen sympathy with the progress of the times. His public career has been exceptionally successful and distinguished, and after having enjoyed high honors under two governments, his life has almost dramatically closed amid the full blaze of the distinctions he had won, and beneath the roof of the Chief Magistrate of his native country.

Deceased was born in New Salem, Mass., Jan. 28th, 1804. He graduated from Williams College and moved to Brattleboro, Vt. where he commenced the practice of law and there married Miss Fenderson. He came to Bangor in 1830, in 1831 was admitted to practice before the Supreme Judicial Court, and in 1832 formed a partnership with Hon. John Appleton, under name of Allen & Appleton, which was continued up to Mr. Allen's entrance to Congress. He was a member of the City Council at its first organization in 1834. From 1836 to 1841 he represented Bangor in the Maine Legislature, being Speaker of the Maine House of Representatives in 1838. From 1841 to 1843 he was Representative in Congress, being elected a Whig over Hannibal Hamlin, Democrat. He served on the Committee on Manufactures. In 1846 he was again a member of the Maine Legislature. In 1847 he moved from Bangor to Boston and in 1849 he was elected a member of the Massachusetts Legislature, in the lower house. Shortly after this he was appointed by President Taylor as Consul to Honolulu. After serving out his term he was chosen Secretary of the Treasury of the Hawaiian Kingdom and subsequently was elected Chief Justice and Chancellor. He finally returned in 1878 or '79 as Minister Plenipotentiary to the United States from the Sandwich Islands and has since then resided in this country. Mr. Allen received the degree of LL. D., from Colby University. By his first wife he had two sons and two daughters, three of whom survive as follows: Elisha H. Allen, Jr., of N. Y., Wm. F. Allen, of Honolulu, Mrs. Wesselhoeft, of Boston. The other daughter, Mrs. Harris, of Honolulu, is dead. By his second wife, Miss Mary Hobbs, of Bangor, there were two children; Frederick H. Allen, now in Washington, D. C., and Miss Mary H. Allen, who has been in Boston during the past few weeks.

Minister Allen was held in high regard in Washington, and by a very wide circle of acquaintances and friends in various parts of the world. Here in his old home he was held in the warmest esteem, and his death will be counted as a severe loss. The sympathy of all will go out toward the sorrowing family upon whom has fallen this sudden blow of affliction.

MAINE INTERESTS IN THE TARIFF.

[From the Lewiston Journal.]

The features of special interest to Maine in which the tariff has been changed by the Commission and the Committee on Ways and Means, are as follows: Lumber of all kinds is reduced from 20 per cent. to 15 per cent. ad valorem; potatoes, butter, oats and wool are practically unchanged; hay (which the Tariff Commission report would have put on the free list) is $1.50 per ton; and potato starch and all other starch is 2cts per lb. which is a reduction of half a cent on wheat starch, and no change on potato starch. The Commission report made no destinction between the duty on oranges and lemons whether packed in foreign or American boxes. At the instance of the delegation from Maine which State has a large trade in packing boxes, the Ways and Means Committee have decided to make a discrimination of 4 cents a box in favor of American boxes. The Commission reported in favor of admitting Canadian wood and chemical pulp free, but the delegation from Maine, which State has extensive manufactures of wood pulp, have asked the Committee of the Senate and house to retain a duty of 15 per cent. (now 20 per cent) as most of the chemicals which enter its production have a duty of 25 per cent. and no other articles advanced in manufacture are put on the free list.

THE NEW MANAGER OF THE EASTERN.

The Boston Journal very justly says: "Mr. Payson Tucker, who has just been chosen General Manager of the Eastern Railroad, is one of the most successful railroad men in the country. During the seven or eight years he has been in charge of the Maine Central he has succeeded in giving the company and the public the most efficient service any community has ever had. He has the faculty to organize and inspire a corps of employes, and at the same time he has adopted a liberal policy which has not only made his line popular with the business men of Maine, but has encouraged the planting of many new industries along the line of the Maine Central. A year ago Mr. Tucker's rare capacity for railroad management attracted the attention of the Northern Pacific Directors and he was offered the position of General Manager, which he declined. Mr. Tucker was born in and has been bred to railroad business."

The administration of Governor Blackburn, of Kentucky, has been a very satisfactory one so far as one class of society is concerned. He has pardoned 1,500 criminals and remitted fines amounting to over $2,000,000 and all in two years.

A REMINISCENCE OF 1876.

THE ELECTORAL COUNT—AN UNPUBLISHED INCIDENT OF THE MEMORABLE EVENT.

[Special Despatch to the Boston Journal.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. Byron Sunderland, formerly Chaplain of the United States Senate, has written a letter to aid Senator Ferry in his candidacy for re-election to the Senate, in the course of which he narrates the following hitherto unpublished incident in connection with the electoral count. It was at the critical moment when there was so much excitement in the House at the presentation of the fraudulent returns from Vermont. Of that night Mr. Sunderland, who was a close observer of the proceedings, says:

"Detectives reported plots to seize the boxes containing the electoral certificates while the Senate procession was passing through the crowds in the rotunda. To meet this contingency Acting Vice President Ferry directed that one set of the returns should be withdrawn from the boxes and secretly protected by other means. On this occasion, prior to the departure of the Senate for the joint meeting in the House, a number of notable men were gathered in the room of the Vice President, among whom, as I recollect it, were Messrs. Evarts, Sherman, Blaine, Stanley Matthews, Kasson and Garfield.

Mr. Evarts was the first to speak, and said:

'Ferry, are you prepared for an emergency?'

He replied at once: 'I shall not fail.'

Blaine said: 'They are going to break up,' and Garfield said: 'Ferry, there is blood in the air.'

Knowing that men went armed into that Convention, that Ferry himself had been threatened repeatedly with assassination, that the air was charged with the spirit of violence and bloodshed, which the slightest incident at any moment might precipitate, I remember myself saying to the Senator that I had lost all faith that we would get safely through, to which he promptly replied: 'Well, if you have lost faith, we'll have the Senate pray for the Chaplain.'"

TERRIFIC ENCOUNTER.

The watchman in a slaughtering establishment at New Haven recently subdued a savage bloodhound by pouring hot water on him from a kettle. Wednesday night the bookkeeper, while pouring some water from the same kettle was attacked and nearly killed by the dog, whose recollections of the brutal treatment of the watchman were vivid, and who evidently expected another dose from the inoffensive bookkeeper. The dog sprang at him, and while he held the animal by the throat, it forced him into the corner back of a red hot stove and bit him on the arms and shoulders some twenty times. The most severe bites are fully an inch deep. It was fully five minutes before assistance arrived in the person of James Farrell, a customer, who seized a cleaver and struck the dog on the nose. The brute then turned on Farrell, but the latter kept the cleaver flying until he had cut off one of the dog's hind legs and split open his skull. Nichols, the bookkeeper, was able to sit up Thursday.

The Pennsylvania Hospital and School for the Blind received a legacy many years ago which is likely to prove far more valuable than it was supposed to be. Moreover the history of it is rather curious and romantic. In 1847 an Englishman named John Cook died in Pennsylvania, and as no will was found his only son, William Wallace Cook, took all the property. Determined not to die intestate, like his father, the son at once prepared to make his will, but within a month, and before it could be drawn, died suddenly. A memorandum was found showing an intention to divide the estate after the payment of certain annuities and the death of certain annuitants, between the Asylum for the Blind and the Pennsylvania Hospital and School for the Blind, and the Court accepted the memorandum as a last will and testament. Soon afterward an actual will duly signed by John Cook, the father, was found, but the consequent complications were finally arranged, and the result is that when three annuitants, one of whom, however, may live twenty years, have died, the Pennsylvania Hospital, as part of its share, will come into the ownership of 10,000 acres of land in Forest County. The estate is now worth about $300,000, and the land may prove to be of enormous value, for several oil wells have recently been found upon it.

The crews of the Cunard steamship have been "knocked off their grog." Heretofore it has been the universal custom on English ships to "pipe the crew to grog" at least twice daily. The grog consisted of half-a-pint of rum and water, and its bestowal was supposed to be one of the "rights" dearest to the heart of the British tar. It was thought the men worked better for the stimulant, and enough was never given to induce intoxication. But now the company has determined, after a careful examination of the subject, that coffee is better to work on, and healthier to take, than grog, and its substitution for that beverage has been ordered. Doubtless the orders of Lord Wolseley to the army in Egypt have contributed to this result. The English general's substitution of coffee and tea for spirituous liquors was widely commented on. In the remark we then made on the subject it was hinted that a widespread reform in this direction might be looked for, but this important movement in the mercantile marine, which may be reasonably expected to extend to the British navy, was not wholly anticipated.—Providence Press.

Chicago is frequently calling the country to take notice of its great material prosperity, but according to all accounts its advance in civilization is not proportioned to its physical development. Its people are building a great many houses and making much money, but their progress in the art of self-government and in the cultivation of the amenities of life is not so eminent or satisfactory. Just now the city seems to be in the hands of thieves and ruffians. It is not safe for peaceable citizens to go unarmed; and while lawlessness is running riot, the best that the Mayor can do in the interests of order is to advise the law-abiding people of Chicago to put a pistol in their hip-pocket and a dirk in their boots.

Senator Beck has several times made the assertion in debate that a great many clerks had been removed from the departments at Washington for failing to contribute to the Republican Campaign Committee. He has been repeatedly challenged to present the name of one person removed from office for this cause, and has been unable to do so. If Beck cannot make good his assertion, with all his influence and authority as a Senator, newspaper editors who have made the same charge should retract their slanders.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

The Democrats are indignant because Gen. Chalmers has been employed to prosecute election frauds in Mississippi, and say he has been a great offender in such cases. Possibly what they charge against him is true, but there is in favor of his employment the old adage,—"It takes a rogue to catch a rogue."

The original door-knocker, brought over in the Mayflower, which for several generations was upon the front door of the old Winslow house at Marshfield, still standing on the Webster farm, has lately come into the possession of the Rev. W. C. Winslow, of Boston, who will probably give it to the Webster Historical Society. "In 1860," says the Boston Transcript, "the Rev. Gordon Winslow, D. D., rector of St. Paul's, Staten Island, while on a visit to Mr. Webster, was presented by him with the interesting relic. It is inscribed, 'From Winslow House, Marshfield, Mass. Came in the Mayflower 1620.' And on the rim or head to receive the blows of the hammer, the inscription runs, 'Presented by Daniel Webster to Dr. G. Winslow, Sept. 12, 1850.' The door-knocker is of brass, but so incrusted with age that some Old Mortality will have to exercise considerable friction to bring back the original lustre, such as greeted the caller upon Governor Edward Winslow and Governor Josiah Winslow. Mr. Webster took great interest in the old mansion, which the builder and original owner named 'Careswell,' and looked upon this relic as among the most valuable souvenirs of the Mayflower and the Pilgrim age. As will be remembered by some the Webster tomb is in the Winslow burying ground, near the tomb of Governor Josiah Winslow, whose coat of arms—the crest being a tree cut short but sprouting out, and motto, 'Decarptus Floreo'—are as clear and distinct as if put there but yesterday. The door-knocker has a Websterian as well as a colonial interest, and comes publicly to light in a year when everything relating to Webster is eagerly sought after by the public."

A Splendid Record.

A great many persons are for a purpose, trying to create an impression that only a small amount of the money paid for life insurance ever returns —that it is wasted in bad investments and extravagant management.

The following figures will show how far from the truth this is, at least as regards one company —the Connecticut Mutual Life.

It has paid to policy holders or their legal representatives from its organization to Jan. 1, 1882, $95,468,581 24, $46,127,670 69

It holds in trust, safely invested, to be paid to policy holders as their policies mature, $50,264,784 83

Total amount already paid and to hand to be paid to policy holders, $96,392,455 52

Total amount received by the company from policy holders, $142,520,126 21

Excess, $46,127,670 69

The funds have been so safely and profitably invested that the interest alone has paid every dollar of expense and earned $2,993,351 65 for the benefit of the insured.—N. Y. Tribune.

MAINE NEWS.

SUDDEN DEATH

Hon. Elisha H. Allen, of Bangor,

WHILE ATTENDING THE PRESIDENT'S RECEPTION.

The First Despatch.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1. During the reception at the Executive Mansion to-day, Hawaiian Minister, Elisha H. Allen, was taken suddenly ill and died shortly after in one of the ante-rooms of the White House.

The Second Despatch.

Hawaiian Minister, Elisha H. Allen, being presented to the President and on his way to an ante-room, was seized with vertigo, succeeded by spasms. He was promptly attended by physicians but shortly died in one of the ante-rooms of the Executive Mansion. Upon the announcement of Allen's death, the reception ended.

The Third Despatch.

Shortly after Mr. Elisha A. Allen, had been presented to the President, he complained of feeling ill and proceeded to the room for his overclothing. On his way to the room he was attacked with vertigo and was assisted into a small room opening from the vestibule on the west. He was promptly attended by physicians, but grew worse and was soon in spasms; from this condition he never rallied, and died before it became generally known that he was ill. The oldest Inhabitants Association was passing before the President when the death of Mr. Allen was announced. At this point the music was stopped and the reception ended. The body was removed to his home and the crowd slowly dispersed.

RUM DID IT.

Murder Committed in Calais.

CALAIS, Jan 1. The body of an unknown woman, about 45 years of age, was found in a house on Depot street. A cap, covered with blood, was near the body. It is supposed to belong to a man named Toomey. No examination of the body will be made until the coroner arrives from Dennysville.

The Particulars so far as Known.

The woman found dead proves to be a Mrs. Carr, formerly of Miramichi, N B. The body laid on the floor of the room occupied by Timothy Toomey and wife, who have been arrested on suspicion of the murder. The head and face of the dead woman were badly bruised, and a large quantity of blood flowed from the mouth and nose. No examination has yet been made below the breast. The room where the murdered contained a bed and stove, both of which were in a disordered state, the stove being upset and the stove pipe tumbled down. A good sized penknife, covered with blood, was found in the room, but no knife wounds were seen on the body.

Toomey says Mrs. Carr came to his house last night and had liquor in her possession and in a fit fell down and bled to death. Mrs. Toomey when arrested was barefoot and declared she did not own any stockings, but a pair was found in the bed with blood stains on them. Stains, supposed to be blood, were found also on Toomey's clothing. Toomey was arrested at the house, but not in the room where the body was found. It is supposed that in a drunken row Mrs. Carr received blows rupturing a blood vessel and bled to death. The body will not be disturbed until the coroner arrives to-night or to-morrow when a post mortem examination and an inquest will be held.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Arrival of Members in Augusta—The Election of Hon. John L. Cutler as President of the Senate Conceded.

AUGUSTA, Jan. 1. A large number of Representatives and Senators-elect arrived here on the incoming trains to-day and this evening. Among them are some of the most prominent men in the State. Governor-elect Robie arrived in the 8 o'clock train.

Hon. John L. Cutler, of Bangor, who will without doubt be elected President of the Senate, is among the arrivals. There is some talk among members in relation to candidates, but nothing further of importance was discussed.

ACCIDENT TO MRS. BLAINE'S CARRIAGE.

No One Injured.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1. A carriage, in which were Mrs. James G Blaine and one of her sons, came violently into collision with a coupe, at the corner of Sixth street and Pennsylvania avenue, to-night. The occupants of both vehicles were thrown to the pavement, but escaped injury.

Shock of an Earthquake.

ROCKLAND, Jan. 1. An earthquake shock was felt throughout the city and vicinity about ten o'clock last night, followed two hours later by a tempest of thunder and lightning.

Serious Accident.

PORTLAND, Jan. 1. Ira Berry, fell from a high step ladder in the Grand Masonic Lodge library this afternoon and broke his right leg between the knee and ankle. His advanced age, eighty-one years, would render it serious if it were not for his excellent health.

NEW YORK.

A Singular Misunderstanding Concerning Letter Postage.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1. From the character of the inquiries made at the Post Office here and on account of the frequent allusions to and discussion concerning the reduction of postage the impression prevails that a reduction of the letter postage rate went into effect the first instant. In consequence of this misunderstanding it is expected that quantities of letters will be mailed insufficiently prepaid, which, as the law has in no way been modified, will require to be held for postage. This fate will befall all letters mailed in this city for out of town points to which a two-cent stamp only is affixed.

Post Office Receipts.

The receipts of the Post Office in this city for the quarter ending last night, were $1,197,305 60; expenses, $225,209 93; leaving a balance to the Treasury of $972 096 35. This is an increase of $64,879 over the same time last year.

THE WEATHER.

WAR DEP'T, OFFICE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER, Washington, D. C., Jan. 2—(1 A. M.)

Indications.

For New England: Occasional light snow, followed by clearing weather; westerly winds; stationary, or lower temperature; rising, followed by falling barometer.

DEATH OF GAMBETTA.

Pyæmia the Direct Cause.

PARIS, Jan. 1. Gambetta died at his residence at Ville de Auray at midnight. Gambetta was quite conscious to the last. The death agony lasted two hours. M Spuller, M. Etienne and Dr. Fieuzal were present at the last moment. The physicians who attended Gambetta state that his death was due to pyæmia caused by suppressed erysipelas. A clot of blood which formed in the heart suffocated the deceased. A plaster cast of the face was taken this morning. There will be an autopsy to-morrow.

How the News Was Received.

PARIS, Jan. 1. The death of Gambetta has created an immense sensation here. Groups gathered on the Boulevards by nine o'clock this morning discussing it. Gambetta finally died quite peacefully. It is reported he will be buried at Nice, beside his mother. The President of the Republic, M. Grevy, was much affected by the news.

In London.

LONDON, Jan. 1. A despatch in the second edition of the Times says: The death agonies of Gambetta began before midnight, after great suffering, which ceased when the agony began. The Republique Francaise, of which he was proprietor, appears in black, but gives no details of the final scene. Messrs. Arnaud, Proust and Hatch were also present at his death bed. It is said that he left no political testament. He made a private will Saturday. A deep impression is produced here. The papers reporting his death are selling in nearly every street and crowds are struggling to procure them. Telegrams were sent to President Grevy and other authorities, immediately after the death. Gambetta died in a state of unconsciousness, but in the course of the afternoon he exclaimed, "Je suis perdu. Il est inutile de dissimuler. J'ai tant souffert, que ce sera une deliverance." His death is like a thunder stroke amidst the bewildered nation.

Terrible Suffering.

PARIS, Jan. 1. For nearly twenty hours before Gambetta became unconscious he complained that he was tortured with pain as if a ball of red hot iron were inside of him. He had recently become asthmatic and it was therefore not permissible to ventilate his room properly. Several times during his illness he spoke to a member of the Deputies upon some matter weighing on his mind, but always briefly. M. M Tanc and S. Puller were summoned to his side for the purpose of receiving the communication but the syncope preceding death had begun when they arrived. It is believed that the hopeful tones of the bulletines issued during Gambetta's illness was due to the advice of the doctor, who did not wish the sick man, when the papers were read to him, to hear anything that might have a depressing effect.

INAUGURATION DAY.

Gov. Cleveland Seated.

ALBANY, Jan 1. The inauguration of Governor Cleveland took place in the Senate chamber this morning and was witnessed by a large audience, including many State officials. At 11 10 A. M. the outgoing and incoming Governors entered the chamber accompanied by representatives, staff and secretaries. Chaplain Dean, of the Senate, made a prayer, and at its conclusion Gov. Cornell read his address. He was followed by Gov. Cleveland, who, in a voice filled with emotion, pronounced an eulogy on the administration of Gov Cornell. The party then retired to the executive chamber where a reception was held by Gov. Cleveland for over an hour.

The Address of Ex-Gov. Cornell.

In his address to Gov. Cleveland, ex-Gov Cornell said: To you, Gov. Cleveland, God speed in every endeavor to secure to this people the richest blessings of a beneficent government. It is your good fortune to come to these important duties by an expression of the public will almost unprecedented in the history of the State. The emphasis thus given to your election is clearly indicative of the public expectation in the discharge of your official functions, and may the Infinite Ruler endow you with wisdom and strength equal to the great responsibilities which now devolve upon you. The faithful discharge of your duties will be ample satisfaction and reward, and whatever circumstances and events occur the public, whose servant you are, will not be unmindful of the way.

Inauguration Ceremonies in Several Cities in Massachusetts.

BOSTON, Jan. 1 The cities of Lawrence, Taunton, Gloucester Fall River, Newburyport, Fitchburg and Lowell, of this State, inaugurated their municipal governments with the usual formalities. The messages of the respective mayors were then delivered, showing the generally satisfactory condition of their respective municipalities.

The city government of Boston was inaugurated to-day. Mayor Albert Palmer delivered his inaugural. The Common Council elected James J. Flynn, President. Hugh O'Brien was elected Chairman of the Board of Aldermen by a vote of 10 to 1. Alderman E F Leighton was accorded his seat, about which there had previously been doubt. City Clerk Samuel F. McCleary, who has held the position for many years, was deposed and Frederick L Goodrich, formerly of the Boston Post, was elected his successor by a vote of 15 to 40.

Debt Statements.

The debt statements show increase or decrease as follows: Boston, increase of net debt, $132 977; Somerville, decrease, $58 339; Cambridge, $230 428 decrease in gross debt; Newton, net increase, $4 945; Lynn, decrease of net debt $6[illegible]; Fitchburg, decrease of net debt, $32,[illegible]; Lowell, net increase, $359 404; Lawrence, decrease in net debt, $23 000; Haverhill, decrease of net debt $13,000; New Bedford, decrease of net debt, $29 4[illegible]; Fall River, decrease of net debt, $80 4[illegible]; Worcester, increase of gross debt, $70 4[illegible]; Springfield, decrease of net debt, $56,[illegible].

YALE COLLEGE.

Annual Report of the Treasurer—The Fund Increasing—Receipts and Expenses.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 1. The annual report of the Treasurer of Yale College, for the year ended July 31, 1882, has just been published. The university fund amount to $448 491, an increase of about $22 000; the income from these funds was $53 448, the total amount of the academic fund is $795 848, yielding an income of $177,546 out of which several thousand dollars in annuities was paid; the expenses of the department were $166,799, of which $84,330 was paid in salaries of instructors, and $6,000 in scholarships; the funds of the theological department amount to $141,031, of which over $40,000 is for scholarships; the income of the department was $27,714 from investments of the fund, and the expenditures were $27,633; the Sheffield Scientific School has a fund of $141,263. The income from the fund was $1,343 but donations, tuition fees, laboratory receipts, and the income from the State agricultural fund, $7,910, increased the receipts of the year to $51,836. The expenses of the school were $56 944. The medical college fund is $28 898; the receipts from all sources, chiefly tuitions, were $6,158, and the expenses $8,020. The only fund of the law department is the library fund of $10 000, yielding an income of $600. The receipts for tuition were $7 333, and the expenditures $7,924. The aggregate of all funds was $1,826 635. The needs of the university are in excess of the income especially in the academic scientific the [illegible] and law departments.

A TERRIBLE CONFESSION.

Three Cold Blooded Murders.

MT. VERNON, O., Jan. 1. Mrs. Stillwell, wife of Jay V. Stillwell, employed on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad, has made a confession of her wretched of three murders. She is at the house of relatives in Knox County. The first was Benjamin Swigert, her first husband, who she says she killed in Marysville, Mo., in March, 1877, with the aid of her mother and brother. The second was a stranger whom the same parties killed for his money while stopping at a boarding house. The third was her own daughter, aged 14 years, whom she strangled in the presence of her mother, in Nebraska, in May, 1880. She also confessed that she attempted to kill her present husband three times to obtain his life insurance. These confessions were first made to her husband and also to others. She is dying of consumption.

FROM WASHINGTON.

General News.

The President's Reception.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1. The weather to-day was clear, bright and spring-like. The great event of the day was the President's reception. The Executive Mansion, which has been thoroughly repainted, decorated and newly upholstered and furnished, presented a handsome appearance. The floral decorations were handsome. On the walls of the east room were imported willow baskets in silver and gold, filled with palms, etc., and used for the first time to-day. Festoons of smilax were suspended from the chandeliers in the green, blue and red parlors, and the mantels were filled with potted plants. In the corridor were large stands of palms and other tropical plants.

The Marine Band was stationed in the vestibule and played several airs during the reception. The Presidential party stood in the blue parlor and presentations were made by Marshal McMichael and Col Rockwell. The President was assisted by the wives of several members of the Cabinet and a number of other ladies. At 11 o'clock the members of the Cabinet and Diplomatic Corps were received. The bright uniforms of the Diplomatic Corps and the odd dress of the Chinese Minister attracted much attention. At 11.15 the Chief Justice and Associate Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States arrived and were followed at 11 30 by the Senators and Representatives in Congress. Judges of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, etc. At 12, the officers of the army and navy in full dress uniform filed in, headed by Gen Sherman and Admiral Porter, and were each in turn presented to the President. At 12.30 a number of officials of various departments were received and at 12 45 the Associated Soldiers of the War of 1812, the Associated Veterans of the War of 1846, the members of the oldest Inhabitants Association of the District of Columbia and the Grand Army of the Republic.

When the death death of Minister Allen was announced the music at once stopped and the reception ended.

Among the Guests were ex-Secretary Blaine, Geo. Bancroft, the historian, ex-Secretary Boutwell and Gen. Belknap.

The President was Moved to Tears

by the announcement of Mr. Allen's death. The sad event had to him the force of an evil omen, occurring as it has at his New Year's reception, which he had hoped to make so brilliant, and following so closely on another tragic event which has shadowed his administration.

CONNECTICUT.

A Brutal Murder.

BRIDGEPORT, Jan. 1. The town of old Stratford was excited last evening over a brutal murder committed there. The victim was Mrs. Phoebe Brush, a mulatto about 35 years of age. Late yesterday afternoon Clarkson S. Ayers (white) Baptist preacher, Matthew Johnson and Mrs. Spear (colored) called upon several colored families to induce them to attend a watch meeting at the church last evening. They called at the house of Mrs. Brush, who lived alone, for that purpose. They knocked at the door and could get no answer but saw a lighted lamp standing on the table. Going around to the window, they discovered that a horrible murder had been committed. An investigation showed that she had been killed by an axe by some person who had come up behind and struck her, while sitting in a chair seven ugly gashes on the head and neck, one of which nearly severed the head from the body. No definite clew is obtained as to the perpetrator. The deceased had lived apart from her husband for several years, and had sought to obtain a divorce. An investigation will be held to-day.

LAST NIGHT'S FIRE In the vicinity of midnight an alarm of fire was sounded and a bright illumination was observed in the sky. The department turned out and went down the Hampden road some distance but it was soon discovered that the blaze was on the Brewer side of the river. Subsequent investigation led to the discovery that the fire was at the residence of Henry K. Robinson, of Brewer Village. The large two story brick house with long wooden ell and outbuildings was entirely destroyed. The fire is supposed to have caught from a defective chimney, and although the Brewer department arrived at the scene little could be done. Only a very little furniture was saved. The total loss will be several thousand dollars. The house was owned by J. S. Wheelwright, and was probably insured. Mr. Robinson had no insurance.

COUNTY OFFICERS. Numerous changes were observed at the County Court House yesterday. With the incoming of the new year several of the old officers retire and the persons chosen at the September election take their places. The office of the Clerk of Courts is now assumed by Mr. C F. Sweet. At the Registry of Deeds Mr. John T. Bowler is in charge. The Treasury is in charge of Mr. B. B. Thomas. The Board of County Commissioners receive to their membership Thos. J. Peakes and Wm. L. Scribner as new members. Mr. A. C. Flint is established as Register of Probate Mr Frederick H. Appleton has assumed the duties of County Attorney. Mr. Hardy has served as Register of Deeds for many years, and on retiring carries with him the respect of all with whom he has had dealings. Mr. Ruel Smith as Clerk of Courts has been an unusually popular, competent and obliging officer. In the Register of Probate there is practically no change, as Mr. Robinson by retaining the able services of Mr. Flint assured the efficient management of all the business of the office. Messrs. Chapman as Treasurer, and County Commissioners Burke and Holt have been faithful officers, and acceptably discharged all their duties. The new incumbents are able and competent and thoroughly equipped for the duties devolving upon them.

THE POLICE BALL.

A Highly Successful Affair.

The first annual ball under the auspices of the Bangor police force has proved a great success. The arrangements were excellent and the vast throng were in the best of spirits throughout the evening, there being nothing to mar the enjoyment of the occasion.

The galleries were packed to overflowing and the floor was covered with dancers throughout the evening. Such a throng has never before been witnessed at Music Hall, and the best of order prevailed. The decorations were unique and artistic, imparting great attractiveness to the hall. Flags of large and small size were used and arranged in a tasty manner. Prominent among the decorations was a large silver star in a gilt circle.

Inspiring music was furnished by Andrews' Orchestra. The floor was ably managed by Mr. Ara Warren, assisted by a numerous corps of efficient aides. There was on the floor at one time during the evening one hundred and thirty-five couples. At intermission a bountiful dinner was served at the American House. The dancing was continued with unabated vigor for many hours, and it was a very late hour in the morning before the merry party finally broke up.

MAINE FISHERIES.

Annual Report of Commissioner Stanley.

The annual report of H. O. Stanley, Commissioner of Fisheries, has been published. It is urged by the Commissioner that the fish and game of our State have a great money value in attracting summer tourists, and that efforts should be made to increase their value. The Commissioner believes $5 is less than the minimum cost of every pound of trout taken from Moosehead, Rangeley or Grand Lake Stream by summer visitors or our own anglers. Our stock of fish and game can be quadrupled, but we must have better laws and they must be rigidly enforced. It is hoped that no more commissions to taxidermists will be granted without the strictest scrutiny as to the objects of the applicants, and bonds should be required for faithful adherence to the terms of the commissions. Strenuous objection is made to throwing shingle waste or slaughter-house refuse into streams, as destructive to fish. Fishing with nets of any kind should not be allowed above tide water. The run of salmon for the year is good; large in numbers, but the average small in size. The fishways are proving a success. The streams are becoming populated with salmon, as the result of spawn planting.

There have been distributed this season Penobscot salmon fry in the different rivers, as follows, viz:

Penobscot river	3-0,000
St Croix river	267,000
Machias river	25 000
Kennebec river	200 000
Androscoggin river	2 0 000
Presumpscot river	146 000
Saco river	60,000
Total	1,132,000

The report urges legislation upon the subject of the rapid destruction of lobsters and that planting should be resorted to.

The planting of land-locked salmon has been amply repaid in most gratifying results at Moosehead, at Enfield and at Rangeley.

At Moosehead they have captured on the fly, from time to time, for the last two years. At Enfield, fish estimated at most exaggerated weight, were seen on the spawning bed this year, but in all probability [illegible]

NEW YEAR'S ADDRESS

OF THE CARRIER BOYS OF THE

Bangor Daily Whig and Courier, January 1, 1883.

Another mile-stone of the years is pass'd,
And we're reminded of Time's rapid pace,
As Eighty two to Eighty-three gives place.
Back o'er the Old Year's passage let us cast
Our thoughts in retrospection, and there trace
Through all its seasons the All Bounteous Hand,—
Its Spring time beauty—Summer's genial sun
Its gen'rous Autumn, filling all the land
With fruitage rich, from teeming acres won,
That man and beast the winter may defy,
And laugh with Plenty as the storms rave by.
Again we hail the welcome New Year's morn,
As o'er the hills up-springs its early dawn—
Once more your Newsboy comes with willing feet,
Bringing his annual song, as wont, to greet
You, his kind friends, with pleasant words of cheer
And earnest wishes that the coming year,
From this, his advent, which we hail to-day,
Till his last hour of twilight fades away
Into the darkness, as he passes on
Beyond Time's threshold, to Oblivion,
May bring you all the good for which you hope,
But to your cup add not one bitter drop
Bringer of many tidings to your door,
Which, from earth's every latitude and zone,
O er airy paths electric Ariels borne—
Our sheet has told of deeds of horror done—
Of deadly feuds, that ended but with life—
Tales of dark crimes—of war's fierce, bloody strife,
Where the far traveled Nile pours down his flood,
Whose waters were incarnadined with blood
As if they blushed at man's dark, fiend like deed
That gries or prayers for pity will not heed,
When the wild Bedouin from his desert sands,
To sack and slaughter led his ruthless bands,
And, urged by greed and lust, with steel and fire
Did Ruin's work—in cities made the pyre
Whereon they offered in fanatic rage,
Their savage holocausts of youth and age!—
Of England a mighty arm upraised to smite
The rebel Arabi—assert her right
To guard the gateway to Old Egypt's sea
And keep the passage to the Orient free.
Of storm and wreck and death upon the main—
And swift destruction in the cyclone's track—
Of all the dreadful history of pain—
Of poor Humanity on sorrow's rack
These have I brought you in my daily round,
Besides a mighty mass of most profound
And sage discussions of those weighty matters
Which the veracious interviewer scatters
O er the broad realm of editorial sway—
But that they were all gospel I'll not say—
So let us leave it—other subjects claim
Attention now, in this my New Year's rhyme.
Though doubtless it were wisdom to refrain
From tedious details of our "Fall Campaign,"
Yet surely I a word may be allowed;
Touching our triumph o'er the opposing crowd
Whose banner bore this motto—which has been
For years their war cry—"Anything to win" —
A glorious vict'ry 'twas, and fairly won,
And which once more has placed far in the van,
Our Standard fair, which now most justly claims
Its ancient boast "Dirigo," as it streams
Again in triumph from the battlement
Let us rejoice that thus and there it waves

But politics are not my forte,
And so my theme they shall not be
Besides, the time is far too short
To here review their history—
Their later history—or tell
What in November's strife befell
Outside our noble Pine Tree State—
Within her bounds we've made things straight
So let us look around us here—
Not to the Distant, but the Near,
Must I devote what yet remains
Of this, my song, whose simple strains
Will soon be o'er How much of good
Have we to claim our gratitude?
How many ills have passed us by
And spared us all th ir misery
From ravage of the Fiend of Fire,
In his fierce conflagrations dire,
Has our fair City long been free—
And may she thus forever be
No pestilence with fatal breath,
Whose presence makes the bravest quail
Has sent its poison, fraught with death !
To fill our homes with sorrow's wail.
Of all the ills of life, how few
Has it been made our lot to bear—
How many and how varied, too,
The blessings falling to our share.
Not vainly did the ploughman toil
Nor sower trust with seed the soil
Through all the glorious summer days
Waved o'er the fields the wheat and maize.
And as the genial seasons rolled
Their emerald beauty changed to gold,
And all the ripened fruits of earth
Soon called the willing reapers forth
And Labor, in its various spheres,
Found ample scope and fair reward,
And cheerful is the smile it wears!
Amid the comforts these afford
But Time goes by on noiseless wings,
And soon the parting hour he brings
Now must I close this humble strain—
We part—I trust to meet again,
And that the birth of Eighty Four
May bring us face to face once more

Meanwhile may all of good and nought of ill,
Your hearts and homes with daily blessings fill

Denver society is deeply moved by the troubles between Lieut Gov. Tabor, the bonanza king and the owner of Tabor's celebrated opera house in that city, and his wife, who has separated from him, and wants a share in his ten millions of dollars

There is an old saying, "If the sun shine clear and bright on Christmas Day, it promiseth a peaceful year from clamors and strife, and foretells much plenty to ensue" We had the clear sky on Christmas, and the rest may follow.

A Fairhaven five year old, who went to school for the first time, came home at noon and said to his mother "Mamma, I don't think that teacher knows much." "Why not, my dear?" "Why, she kept asking questions all the time. She asked where the Mississippi was."

The English Earl of Dudley, who has an annual income of about five millions of dollars, has for some time been in a mental condition bordering on imbecility. Consequently his wife and children live very quietly, and as he may last for years, the accumulation of money threatens to become enormous.

A Virginian correspondent gives some interesting reminiscences of the Marquis of Lorne's family, suggested by that nobleman's visit to this country. Many years ago, he writes, two brothers, John and Andrew Glassell, came from Scotland to Virginia, and built in Madison County a stately brick house, still standing, called "Thorworald." John Glassell afterward returned to Scotland, where he owned a fine estate, but his brother remained in Virginia, and many of his descendants are yet living there. John Glassell took his only child, Joanna, to Italy for her health, and there met a Lord Campbell, who fell in love with and married the young lady. Lord Campbell afterward became Duke of Argyll, and was father of the present Duke and grandfather of the present Marquis of Lorne. William E. Glassell, son of Andrew and first cousin of Joanna, is still living in Fauquier County, Virginia. Members of his family have visited Scotland and been kindly received and entertained by their kinsman, Argyll.

The introduction of railroads and Yankee enterprise into Mexico is drawing the attention of the outside world to the easy-going jog-trot sort of life that is lived there. It is a land where the sewing machine, the telephone and the book-agent are as yet unknown, except in rarely-favored localities.

There are Rumors in Berlin of an approaching marriage between the Princess Victoria, of Hesse-Darmstadt, daughter of the lamented Princess Alice and granddaughter of the Queen of England, and Prince Frederick William, son of the Grand Duke of Baden, and grandson of the Emperor of Germany.

Mr. Napier Broome, who has been appointed Governor of Western Australia, has led a strangely checkered career The son of a clergyman, he went as a pioneer twenty-five years ago to New Zealand, and engaged in sheep farming While home on a holiday he met and married Lady Barker, and took her back with him to New Zealand Hence her well known book about that country Calamity soon overtook him in the loss of his flocks by disease, and he returned to England in very straitened circumstances About this time the Duchess of Sutherland heard of Lady Barker's wonderful powers as a "medium," and sought her acquaintance in order to be put in communication with an idolized son she had recently lost An intimacy grew up between the two ladies, and then the Duchess, learning that Mr Broome was a man of high literary ability, and was in need of employment, introduced him to Mr Delane, who soon engaged him at a handsome salary as editorial writer on the London Times In that position Mr Broome distinguished himself and has since served as Secretary of various Royal commissions He now goes to rule a land of unexplored forests, desert plains, and bitter salt lakes, with nearly a million square miles of territory but less than thirty thousand civilized inhabitants.

The Kansas City Journal from Grand Forks, Dakota, gives the following details of the terrible death of a woman and her child near Stump Lake They were both very sick in the miserable shanty which they called a home, and the husband, who is a Russian Jew named Salinger, thought it better for them all to leave and attempt to reach the house of a neighbor, half a mile distant, The fierce and blinding storm so benumbed and confused the husband that he drove aimlessly around in a circle for two hours His wife had been calling upon him to hurry, as she was not only deathly cold herself but feared for the thinly clad baby, and at last she told her husband that the child was dead. They carried it for about a quarter of an hour and then abandoned it and the oxen they had been driving Salinger used every means in his power to keep his wife warm, even taking every vestage of clothing from the dead child and wrapping it about her, but she became more and more benumbed, being unable to speak, and at last falling insensible in the snow. He chafed her hands and exhausted himself trying to revive her, but finally, when there was no longer any doubt of her death, he pushed on and came to the neighbor's house. His face, hands and feet were horribly frost-bitten.

A giant is puzzling the celebrities of the medical profession in Paris. The man, who is now nineteen and a half years of age, had nothing at all the matter with him when at the age of seventeen he seemed to have finished growing at the respectable but no extraordinary height of six feet five inches. On the 17th of May, 1881, he measured himself and found that he was a good inch taller than he had been a few weeks before. His curiosity being naturally aroused, he continued to take regular measurements every week, and found that his growing powers had actually made a fresh start. By the beginning of the following September he had gained about three inches more. At the same time he experienced peculiar aching pains in his bones, but the rate at which his stature increased seemed to develop itself more and more rapidly so that in the beginning of the present year he had gained four inches more, and stood over seven feet without his boots Another quarter of a year found him full five inches taller and without any signs of nature having exhausted her energies Only in June last did the growth of his body cease, and since that time his legs have still been growing longer and thinner till he has now reached the height, or rather the length—for he can no longer stand upright—of seven feet ten inches His feet are described as each about twenty inches long, but he has no use for them, as his feebleness is too great for any exercise whatever He also shows symptoms of consumption, and the doctors do not suppose that he can live long In fact, it may be said of him with more emphasis than, perhaps, in any recorded case, that he has "outgrown himself" though why he should have done so is a mystery which all the doctors of the Sorbonne have not yet been able to explain

Rev. Father Wilds' EXPERIENCE.

The Rev Z P Wilds, well known city missionary in New York, and brother of the late eminent Judge Wilds, of the Massachusetts Supreme Court writes as follows

78 E 54th St New York, May 16, 1882

MESSRS J C AYER & Co, Gentlemen

Last winter I was troubled with a most uncomfortable itching humor affecting more especially my limbs which itched so intolerably at night and burned so intensely that I could scarcely bear any clothing over them I was also a sufferer from a severe catarrh and catarrhal cough my appetite was poor and my system a good deal run down Knowing the value of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA by observation of many other cases, and from personal use in former years I began taking it for the above named disorders My appetite improved almost from the first dose After a short time the fever and itching were allayed, and all signs of irritation of the skin disappeared My catarrh and cough were also cured by the same means and my general health greatly improved, until it is now excellent I feel a hundred per cent stronger and I attribute these results to the use of the SARSAPARILLA, which I recommend with all confidence as the best blood medicine ever devised I took it in small doses three times a day and used in all less than two bottles I place these facts at your service hoping their publication may do good

Yours respectfully Z P WILDS"

The above instance is but one of the many constantly coming to our notice which prove the perfect adaptability of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA to the cure of all diseases arising from impure or impoverished blood, and a weakened vitality

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

cleanses, enriches, and strengthens the blood, stimulates the action of the stomach and bowels, and thereby enables the system to resist and overcome the attacks of all Scrofulous Diseases, Eruptions of the Skin, Rheumatism, Catarrh, General Debility and all disorders resulting from poor or corrupted blood and a low state of the system.

HAIR RENEWER

is the first preparation perfectly adapted to cure diseases of the scalp and the first successful restorer of faded or gray hair to its natural color, growth, and youthful beauty It has had many imitators but none have so fully met all the requirements needful for the proper treatment of the hair and scalp HALL'S HAIR RENEWER has steadily grown in favor and spread its fame and usefulness to every quarter of the globe Its unparalleled success can be attributed to but one cause the entire fulfilment of its promises

The proprietors have often been surprised at the receipt of orders from remote countries where they had never made an effort for its introduction

The use for a short time of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER wonderfully improves the personal appearance It cleanses the scalp from all impurities, cures all humors fever, and dryness and thus prevents baldness It stimulates the weakened glands and enables them to push forward a new and vigorous growth The effects of this article are not transient like those of alcoholic preparations but remain a long time, which makes its use a matter of economy

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE
FOR THE WHISKERS

Will change the beard to a natural brown, or black as desired It produces a permanent color that will not wash away Consisting of a single preparation it is applied without trouble

DOWNS' ELIXIR.
N. H. DOWNS'
Vegetable Balsamic
ELIXIR

For the cure of

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Influenza, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis, and all diseases of the Throat, Chest, and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir is used its effica y is at once manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable if properly attended to—At its commencement it is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the Lungs; then an inflammation when the cough is rather dry local fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common This Elixir in curing the above complaints operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflamation from the lungs to the surface and finally expel them from the system It facilitates expectoration.

CONSUMPTION

It heals the ulcerated surfaces and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles which are of so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the CAUSE, consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well Send address for pamphlet giving full directions free

Price 35 cts 50 cts, and $1 00 per bottle

HEART DISEASE

Now IS YOUR HEART SOUND?

Many people think their heart is sound and the doctor for kidney or liver troubles or dyspepsia, while if the truth were known the real cause is at the heart

The renowned Dr Clendinning, a writing says one third of my subjects show signs of heart disease

The heart weighs about nine ounces and yet man's twenty-eight pounds of blood passes through it once in a minute and a half resting not day or night Surely this subject should have careful attention

Dr Graves a celebrated physician has prepared a specific for all heart troubles and kindred disorders It is known as Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator and can be obtained at your druggists $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5 by express Send stamp for Dr Graves' thorough and exhaustive treatise (1)

To Please Her Husband.

Were the Words of a Good Lady, Mrs. Hawkins who has long suffered the Pain Common to Chronic Rheumatism A Woman's Patience and Fortitude well Shown.

Your reporter found Mrs Hawkins at 11 Exchange St., New Haven, Conn "About four years ago," she said, "I was then a resident of Brooklyn, N Y I went over one morning to the Jersey City depot to see some friends off who were starting for the west There was a strong draft of air in the depot, an in standing by the train talking to my friends, I caught a severe cold. I had no more than reached my home again when I was taken with a chill and then chills and fever set in The outcome of all was that rheumatism settled all over me I was entirely helpless From this I have never recovered. You see my hands, what a state they are in. Those are all chalky swellings and my limbs are very bad. While I remained in Brooklyn I tried all sorts of remedies, but I could never gain any relief My physician said it was no use. I grew very thin and lost all my strength. Finally, after coming here, to gratify my husband, I began to take Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY, and my general health has been better than ever before I am stronger, have an excellent appetite, which I did not have for a long time. It has helped my rheumatism and with a thorough trial I am in hopes of recovering completely."

Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY has been successfully used by thousands. It will build up a system which has been run down by overwork. It is the thing for the student and literary man to have at hand, and should be in the home of every mechanic. FAVORITE REMEDY is economical, safe and pleasant. Buy it and try it.
